

Brynjolf spice

KNPCBrynjolfMercer

To start the spice is best if you are not in relationship with Kaidan yet and have "early flirting" switch active. If you want to start the Brynjolf spice questline after you started relationship with Kaidan already, make sure you are in early stages of that relationship. Otherwise you will get locked out of this questline if you progress the romance too fast. You have to have "spice switch" turned ON through the whole Brynjolf questline and either have "early flirt" switch turned ON or worn already Amulet of Mara for Kaidan.

Congratulations you completed Brynjolf spice

Note:

As long as you reached stage 10 in Brynjolf spice, once you get far enough with TG questline (Mercer no longer available in TG) all convos you didn't hear in between will be skipped and the Brynjolf spice questline gets moved to stage 80.

Brynjolf comments – Brawk – Brynjolf awkward

Note:

New idle lines for Brynjolf, new greeting and goodbye lines. New dialogues with Brynjolf you can have about his past, his thoughts on some Thieves Guild members, he can comment on what you are wearing or some quests you completed, your skills, bounties or ask more questions about you. Most of these start after TG quest "Loud and Clear" is completed. But keep in mind that some content is suggestive and that is kept behind player going through the date with Brynjolf and spending the night with him. A lot of Brynjolf content from here ends after reaching certain stages of Brynjolf spice (mostly stage 110 or higher of KNPCBrynjolfMercer) and moving along with Kaidan romance (stage 75 and higher).

How to check what part of brawk you are on

help brawktimer

Refer to the list below according to the number it returns.

Note:

All of the lines below are available after clicking a dialogue with Brynjolf "So Brynjolf, I was wondering..." or "Brynjolf, I was wondering something..." - it is a random response to that topic, which means if you are supposed to have new brawk line available and are meeting conditions – just exit dialogue with Brynjolf and ask him again.
